

HOME AND AWAY

POETRY, STORIES & ART

The 10th Annual Anthology by Members of
The PATHfinder Club and POPS the Club

HOME AND AWAY features poetry, stories, drawings, paintings, collages, and photographs created by young people impacted by incarceration, detention, and deportation that take us inside their sense of feeling at home—whether in their clubs, on playing fields, hanging out with friends, or just being alone. But that’s only the first section. In Part Two, in addition to capturing dreams of adventure and the faraway, the creators address longings about those who are away, too often a parent, and about broken homes, broken hearts, and broken dreams.

“A beautiful collection of stories, poetry, and art created by extraordinary youth. Offering important lessons on belonging and marginalization, it will simultaneously expand, touch, break, and mend your heart.”

— Naomi Ackerman, founder and Executive Director, Advot

The PATHfinder Club (Paving a Trail of Hope) and POPS the Club (Pain of the Prison System) are programs of The Pathfinder Network, which provides justice system-impacted individuals and families with the tools and support they need to be safe and thrive in our communities.

Club provides support and resources to teens impacted by incarceration, detention, and deportation, transforming hurt and harm to hope and healing.

EXPLORE OUR ANTHOLOGY TITLES

For a decade, POPS the Club has published powerful collections of poetry, stories, and artwork created by club members, graduates, and friends! These books are healing for families, relished by students from elementary school through college, used in prisons and detention centers as inspiration, and praised by librarians, educators and literary journals.

In 2020, we launched Out of the Woods Press to share these voices with more people. In 2023, The Pathfinder network assumed operation of POPS the Club, carrying on their publishing legacy and incorporating student work from members of The PATHfinder Club.
